Our Founders:

Loren Davies, a former US Marine as well as a former Homeland Security/TSA Supervisor at Syracuse's Hancock International Airport and Iraqi War Veteran SFC (USAR Ret.) Leroy L. Bowen Jr., Quartermaster of the Pulaski VFW, who is also employed by the TSA, together noticed that many servicemen and women were forced to spend long hours waiting for their flights, often overnight, when heading home on leave, moving to a new duty station, or returning to their place of deployment.

This was obviously unacceptable to these Veterans, so they decided to do something about it!

Together, in conjunction with then Mayor Matthew Driscoll; we obtained the necessary approval for a space dedicated to military personnel. Thanks to the amazing cooperation and enthusiasm of all involved with this project and along with the cooperation of the Syracuse Common Council, this plan was put into motion and finalized in short order.

The Courtesy Room is named in honor of a local Marine, Cpl. Gregory J. Harris, who was captured in June of 1966 during the Vietnam War and is still unaccounted for. Cpl. Harris was a 1963 Graduate of West Genesee High School, and has family and friends still living in Central New York who are actively pursuing his case with the Department of Defense. The support of ALL our volunteers is greatly appreciated by the 106000+ servicemen and women, who've already visited the Room since opening in July 29, 2008!
